Curriculum Details
Curriculum type : Local
Curriculum planning
Holistic development is the main concern of the curriculum. To lay the base of lifetime learning, we use the foundation of the learning areas specified in the Guide to Kindergarten Education Curriculum, using an integrated approach and providing real-life themes and learning through games. We have optimized the learning environment and diversified our teaching strategies for children to develop a positive, high moral standard and balanced character. We will follow the "Kindergarten Education Curriculum Guide" (2017) to plan curriculum. Children of nursery classes will not be asked to write, and there will not be mechanical copying exercises and drills on calculation.
Learning / Teaching approach & activities
The curriculum is taught in interactive groups supported with various group activities, including: language, mathematics, nature and living, daily life knowledge, interesting inference and artistic creativity. This serves to stimulate children's want to learn and curiosity, strengthen the abilities of thinking and problem solving and foster active self-directed learning.
Assessment of children's learning experiences
Performance measures are done based on quality indicators of child development through daily observations. A 'profile on learning' is kept for ongoing observations and records aided with photos for analysis. This includes qualitative and quantitative assessments for objective and truthful record as the evidence of a child's learning and development.
