Curriculum Details

Curriculum type : Local

Curriculum planning

We take strong consideration on children's moral development through the curriculum focusing on moral, intellectual, physical, and aesthetic aspects. We also design open-ended and diversified learning environment for children to develop positive morals and obtain a balanced whole-person development.

We will follow the "Kindergarten Education Curriculum Guide" (2017) to plan curriculum. Children of nursery classes will not be asked to write, and there will not be mechanical copying exercises and drills on calculation.

Learning / Teaching approach & activities

Our integrated curriculum is adopted in accordance to children's interests, ability, and real-life experiences. These integrated curriculum includes "Project Approach", "Theme-based learning" and "Shared-reading Approach", which encourage children to adopt the skill to learn through observation, discussion, and sharing with peers. We offer programs that promote motivation, enhance creativity and problem-solving skills to develop children's inner potential.

Assessment of children's learning experiences

The assessment follows the principles of children's overall physical and mental development. Teachers and parents work together to record children's performance and abilities in various aspects through continuous observation, so as to understand children's development. In addition, children also participate in self-assessment and self-reflection, so as to understand their own strengths and uniqueness, which helps enhance their self-worth.
